VCU Graduate Bulletin, VCU Graduate School and general academic policies and regulations for all graduate students in all graduate programs
The VCU Graduate Bulletin website documents the official admission and academic rules and regulations that govern graduate education for all graduate programs at the university. These policies are established by the graduate faculty of the university through their elected representatives to the University Graduate Council.

It is the responsibility of all graduate students, both on- and off-campus, to be familiar with the VCU Graduate Bulletin as well as the Graduate School website and academic regulations in individual school and department publications and on program websites. However, in all cases, the official policies and procedures of the University Graduate Council, as published on the VCU Graduate Bulletin and Graduate School websites, take precedence over individual program policies and guidelines.

Visit the academic regulations section for additional information on academic regulations for graduate students.

Degree candidacy requirements
A graduate student admitted to a program or concentration requiring a final research project, work of art, thesis or dissertation, must qualify for continuing master's or doctoral status according to the degree candidacy requirements of the student's graduate program. Admission to degree candidacy, if applicable, is a formal statement by the graduate student's faculty regarding the student's academic achievements and the student's readiness to proceed to the final research phase of the degree program.

Graduate students and program directors should refer to the following degree candidacy policy as published in the VCU Graduate Bulletin for complete information and instructions.

Visit the academic regulations section for additional information on degree candidacy requirements.

Graduation requirements
As graduate students approach the end of their academic programs and the final semester of matriculation, they must make formal application to graduate. No degrees will be conferred until the application to graduate has been finalized.

Graduate students and program directors should refer to the following graduation requirements as published in the Graduation Bulletin for a complete list of instructions and a graduation checklist.

Visit the academic regulations section for additional information on graduation requirements.

Degree requirements
Students enrolled in the VCU-Fudan University joint degree program take all required courses at Fudan University in Shanghai and an encouraged practicum course at VCU at the end of the program. The program will be jointly taught by faculty from both VCU and Fudan. The program requires a minimum of 30 credit hours and provides the option to complete a practicum for a total of 33 credits maximum. Upon completion of the requirements, students will receive a Master of Science in Business with a concentration in global marketing management from VCU.

The global marketing management concentration provides the opportunity to focus on conceptual and experiential dimensions of marketing management. Students interested in the increasingly global nature of business will be well-suited for this unique graduate degree program. Core courses provide a framework for understanding the role of marketing in diverse organizations. Electives add knowledge in areas of growing importance to the profession and provide the flexibility for students to consider emerging topics in the global marketing environment. Client projects and global applications prepare students for marketing careers. Study abroad is available and encouraged.

In addition to the VCU Graduate School graduation requirements, students must... complete up to seven classes (zero to 21 credit hours) of the following preparatory foundation course work taken at Fudan University.
