

ADMISSIONS APPEALS

The Office of Admissions will hold denied applicants' transcripts and test scores for one year. To reapply within this period, applicants should first contact the department or program. Additional materials should be supplied to strengthen the application, such as new test scores, new letters of recommendation or a new statement of intent.