PSYCHOLOGY, MINOR IN

A minor in psychology consists of 18 credits in psychology, including:

Course | Title                                                                 | Hours |
--------|----------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|
PSYC 101 | Play course video for Introduction to Psychology                      | 4     |
Select one course from each of the four basic areas:  | 11    |
  Development                                      |       |
  Social/personality                                |       |
  Physiological/learning                            |       |
  Self-development/applied psychology               |       |
Select one additional PSYC course                  | 3     |
Total Hours                                         | 18    |

1

PSYC 201 cannot be used to meet this requirement.

At least nine of the 18 credits must be taken at VCU.