

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL AND BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES

Jessica G. LaRose, Ph.D.

Professor and interim chair

sbs.vcu.edu (<https://sbs.vcu.edu/>)

Mission

The Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences strives for health equity and social justice via research, education and service, with community engagement at the heart of all efforts. This work spans the translational continuum within public health, seeking to understand and change the systemic, structural, social and behavioral factors that affect health to promote optimal well-being for all.

Vision

To have a transformational, real-world impact in service of health and social justice.