

OUTDOOR LEADERSHIP, CERTIFICATE IN (BACCALAUREATE CERTIFICATE)

The Certificate in Outdoor Leadership is designed to prepare undergraduate students for work in a variety of professional outdoor experiential leadership positions. Course work focuses on the development of core competencies in outdoor leadership and students will gain experience through hands-on leadership opportunities, case studies and field activities.

Student learning outcomes

- Articulate foundational theory as it relates to the study of outdoor leadership
- Develop effective leadership processes and management strategies as they relate to leading in the outdoor context
- Demonstrate technical skills as they relate to planning, preparing and leading in the outdoors

Certificate requirements

Admission to the program

Admission to this certificate program requires completion of a minimum of 30 credit hours of accredited undergraduate course work and a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5. International students will need evidence of English language proficiency based upon satisfactory scores for the Test of English as a Foreign Language (minimum 550 from paper or 80 via internet), Pearson Test of English (53 or better) or the International English Language Testing System (6.0 or better). Students may earn this certificate either concurrently or independently with a baccalaureate degree program at the university.

Curriculum requirements

The 12-credit core curriculum will focus on educating students in the theory, processes and skills required for advanced careers in the field of outdoor recreation and education. Students will gain experience through hands-on leadership opportunities, case-studies, field time, lecture, structured feedback and guided inquiry. Course work will focus on outdoor leadership core competencies, foundational knowledge, self-awareness and professional conduct, decision- and judgment-making, teaching and facilitation, environmental stewardship, program management, safety and risk management, and technical expertise. Students may take an optional elective as noted below; these courses may add one to four credits to the certificate.
